Foreword

Editors are like women—they change their minds for undeniably correct reasons. As the title suggests, this book was to be a double-entendre. What better idea than a play on the name Chapman. Start off with young John's earliest thoughts about the opposite sex. Were his more mature attitudes on the same subject the reason he was elected a member of the DTC? Did Irving Wallace write his book because of...? And why aren't there pages of nudes in this Annual—and wonderfully titillating articles and cartoons? Well, members and guests, the book got out of hand, editorially. Twenty-eight pages were needed for the list of members, sixteen pages for photos, and reports another eight. Our weekly meetings, our designer, art work, a sonnet and this Foreword used up the rest.

Therefore, the double-entendre of the Chapman Report must be left to your imagination! What a book it could have been. But then, what a guy this Chapman is, to whom this book is dedicated.

Harry Hershfield is decorated by President Chapman, right.

John Chapman

President's Report

Something wonderful happened to the Dutch Treat Club recently. Now, many wonderful things happen at the DTC during its weekly luncheon meetings—stimulating talks by leaders of thought and fine performances by leaders in music and theatre, but I am referring to something that happened to the Club.

This was the strike of the postal workers, who break their backs and drag their asses through storm and gloom of night to bring us mail that we don't want, like news from a magazine that we might win a million dollars if we subscribe instantly.

For two weeks running nobody got a postcard from Betty Knop McGannon giving warning of speakers and entertainers, and among the latter the most popular was To Be Announced. Now, Betty thinks she has the most select list of readers in the U.S.—

"I don't dig it!"

better than Forbes or Reader's Digest—and she feels frustrated when she isn't reaching her public. Frustrated, too, was Eleanor O'Conner, the second woman to become an honorary life member of the Club. She has been given the title of Den Mother and it is her duty to greet the members on Tuesdays at the Regency, take their money, give them their silly little movie theatre tickets and make them sign their report cards.

Nobody, thought Betty and Eleanor, would come. The same grim thought was thunk by those in charge of putting the programs together.

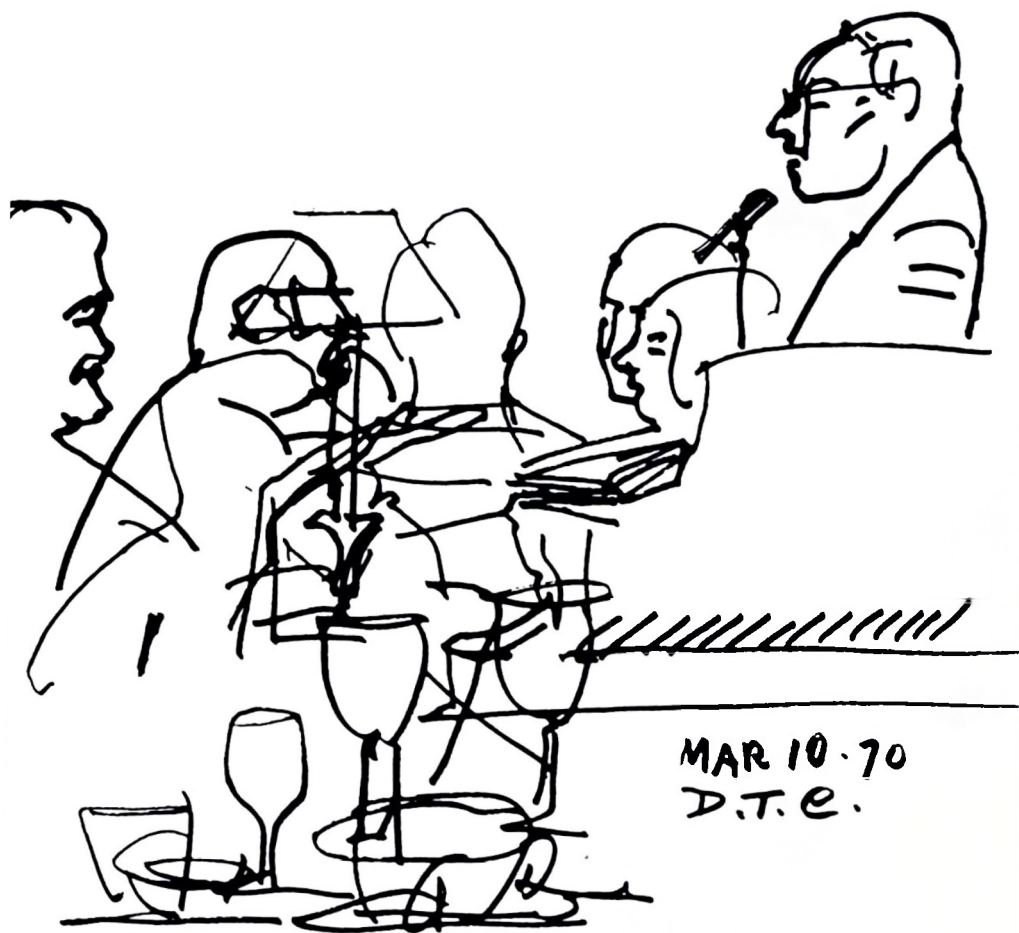

And then this wonderful thing happened! On the first Tuesday of the postal strike more members than usual turned up for luncheon. Another goodly crowd appeared on the second Tuesday. This confounded the pessimists, of whom there are many, who think it is the names of the speakers and entertainers which are the box-office lure. This phenomenon during the strike was an affirmation of faith in the Club, whose original design was simply to provide an opportunity for kindred spirits to assemble. Even so, everything is not love and kisses. Attendance at the Tuesday luncheons is spotty, as it always has been—and unpredictable, which is worse. We are not in show business to make a profit, but we do have an obligation to keep our luncheon attendance on an even keel—and, frankly, we have too many "no show" members. (Here is a tip: If we have a sure-fire SRO attraction, like a Senator McCarthy, come late. The hotel kitchen will run out of the food it has prepared, and latecomers will get steak.)

Another recent happening is worth noting. We have had many copies of the traditional rose which stands by the speaker's table as a reminder that everything said here is to be held in confidence. Our last rose had been arranged for by the late Frank Dixon. After many years it vanished just after the postal strike. Nobody stole it. The Fire Department ordered it destroyed as a fire hazard! We'll have to get one made of tin or aluminum.

During our dinner festivities let us mourn the passing of too many Dutch Treaters and rejoice in the presence of many new members. Profound thanks to Franklin S. Forsberg, our new Chairman of the Board of Governors, for providing such a variety of speakers, and to Frank Farrell for his efforts in the entertainment field. Thanks, also, to their many helpers.

May our annual dinner be a happy affair!

Secretary's Report

"Bill, I've got a wonderful guy I'd like to propose for the Club. How do I go about getting him in?"

Fielding such questions Tuesday after Tuesday is your Secretary's chief function. It's not, as so many members believe, sending out those weekly postcards that bear his name. Those are the work of other hands—just as much a mystery to the Secretary as to you—and he doesn't see them until you do.

That one question of membership occupies his time. And it is approached in a hundred different forms, too. "Bill, you look great! Have you a moment to talk..." "Tell me, Bill, how many Governors does a prospective member have to meet? If I introduce him to John, is that enough?" "Mr. Secretary, I understand the Club's looking for young members. A nephew of my wife's cousin is a bright..."

Then comes the ensuing conversation—with slight variations depending on how long it has taken your Secretary to get to and then away from the bar. It goes something like this: "Have you known this fellow for a good long time? Do you think he'd make a companionable Club member?"

"Well, he certainly seems qualified to me. That's why I brought him around last week. He knew a couple of members and talked with three or four more. They seemed to like him—and he did shut up when Mr. Chapman growled at him the second time."

"Tell me more. Is he a writer, editor or artist? Is he creative in any aspect of the Arts?"

"Well, yes. I think you could say so. He has written a number of trade magazine articles, given some talks at Sales Executive Clubs. And he was pretty big in the Des Moines Rotary Club before coming East."

"Is that so. Well, what you have to do is write me a nominating letter with a rundown of his history. And be certain to give what you consider are his qualifications for the Club. Then at least six other members of the Club must write seconding letters, with each telling why he thinks your candidate qualifies."

"Next—and this is very important—bring him to several of our luncheons and see to it he meets as many members of the Board of Governors as possible."

"Thanks a million, Bill. I'll get started on it at once."

"By the way, you never answered my first question. How long have you known the man you're proposing?"

"Well, not very long. In fact, only a couple of months. You see, he's my new boss.... Say, could I buy you a drink?"

"Yes, I think you could.... In fact, you'd better make it a double."

Tuesday Luncheons

None of our guest speakers or artists at the Tuesday luncheons held since last April caused our recently banned inflammable rose to burst spontaneously into flames, but the quality of their performances was in the usual Dutch Treat Club tradition of excellence.

As newly elected chairman of the board, or head program-maker, the responsibility was Franklin S. Forsberg's. He succeeded James Monahan who served us since 1964. Members who have generously aided our chairmen are too numerous to list, but deserve the membership's appreciation.

Here are the Tuesday programs, carrying on from where last year's Book left off:

Alex Faulkner, Albert Hague, Chairman Frank Forsberg and guest speaker, Captain Warwick, overleaf.

April 1, 1969

Emery Davis: Dutch Treater heads a musical trio and demonstrates a new gadget—the electric clarinet.

W. L. White: another Club Member and author of Report on the Russians has just returned from the Far East with a new "Report on Asia." He gives us a bold, candid, off the record talk on "How can we get out of Vietnam?"

April 8

Placido Domingo: the Metropolitan Opera's sensational tenor playing his own accompaniments.

Thubten Jigme Norbu: elder brother of the Dalai Lama speaks on the Tragedy of Tibet—and the Background, illustrated by exciting color films.

April 15

Earl Wrightson: baritone—a favorite with Dutch Treaters. Walter Kerr: Sunday Drama Critic of the Times and author of the new Simon & Schuster book, Thirty Plays Hath November, on "You can't tell the audience from the actors without a scorecard!"

April 22

Publishers Week: No meeting. The voice of the free-loader is heard o'er the City.

April 29

Betty Buckley, William Daniels, Scott Jarvis, Sherman Edwards: highlights from the prize-winning musical, 1776. Hon. John Haskell: former Defense Advisor to U.S. Delegation to NATO, currently Director of the American Chamber of Commerce in France, discusses France and the future of NATO.

May 6

Cleveland Amory: our own Proper Bostonian speaks on "The Real Israel," based on his recent tour of the "Muddled East."

May 13

Norman Mailer, Jimmy Breslin: one adding moral support to the other, they address the final luncheon of the season.

October 7: the new season begins

Robert Merrill: greets us with song, pretty Marion Machno, (Mrs. M.) at the piano. Walter Sullivan: Science Editor of the New York Times speaks on the subject of "Moon and Man."

October 14

Robert Rounseville: rousing tenor from Man of La Mancha entertains following Ray Middleton introduction. Robin Moore: Dutch Treater, author and honorary member of the Green Berets, tells why the Green Berets' trial never took place—a provocative evaluation of the war in Vietnam.

October 21

Jack Waldron: introduced by Harry Hershfield, the shepherd of the Lambs and creator of the "one liner" entertains. Paul Bethel: author of the recently published The Losers, discusses the Communist conquest of Cuba as witnessed by him.

October 28

Maj. Gen. Indarjit Rikye: consultant for the U.N. on special missions in Africa and Asia, reviews his role as the U.N.'s chief peace-keeping man in the Middle East.

November 4

Election Day: no luncheon.

November 11

Jesse Owens: a bawdy balladeer from Ireland. Eugene J. McCarthy: the Senator from Minnesota, author of The Year of the People, addresses an overflow crowd on the current political outlook.

November 18

Vincent L. Tofany: the New York State Commissioner of Motor Vehicles dwells upon "Life and death behind the wheel."

November 25

Gordon MacRae: star of all the important Rodgers & Hammerstein musical comedies and ardent Mets fan. Roger Lewis: the president of General Dynamics Corporation talks on "The Exploration and Development of our Underseas Resources."

December 2

Fletcher Knebel: former Washington correspondent and author of many successful novels on controversial subjects—The Seven Days, Vanished, Trespass—updates us on the "Potomac Fever Chart."

December 9

Dr. George H. Brown: Director of the 1970 Federal Census covers such subjects as "Invasion of Privacy" and the mandatory aspect of the census under the title, "Nobody's Perfect—Not Even the Census."

December 16

Martyn Green, Ray Walston: numbers from the new musical production, Canterbury Tales. William Morris: our own lexicographer, Secretary of the Club and sometime Master of Ceremonies at our luncheons, tells us of his role as Editor of the new American Heritage Dictionary.

December 23

Lewis Cotlow: noted explorer and fellow Dutch Treater narrates "The Twilight of Primitive Man," a color film of his fifth expedition to the Amazonian tribes, Chavantes, Camayuras and the notorious Jivaro head-hunters.

December 30

Family Holiday Party: entertainers include Master of Ceremonies, Lanny Ross; magician extraordinary, Bob Burden; Christmas carols by Felix Knight and Bud Lewis and musical specialties by Renee Orin and Albert Hague.

January 6

Don Staley: Executive Director, Recording for the Blind, Inc., describes the Nation's only organization that records, circulates and stores the most comprehensive collection of recorded literature for the blind and handicapped.

January 13

William Walker: fellow Dutch Treater and one of the stars of the Metropolitan Opera's new production of Pagliacci. Elmer Lower: President of ABC details the putting together of the nightly network news and explains how fairness and balance are achieved.

January 20

Keith Mitchell and Tony Martinez: stars of the London production of Man of La Mancha brings us songs from the Broadway hit. Count Rene deChambrun: descendant of Lafayette, co-founder of the Lafayette Museum at LaGrange, France and author of I Saw France Fall recounts some untold provocative Franco-American stories.

January 27

Joanna Simon: a long-stemmed American beauty blonde, a mezzo-soprano who sings with luscious notes to match her other accessories. Arthur H. "Red" Motley: President of Parade Publications, Inc., speaks on the perils of public appearances in a world of instant communications.

February 3

Toots Shore, Bob Considine: drinking companions who combined on a book named Toots—the saga of Toots' life on a roller coaster.

February 10

Harvey Stone: popular comedian.

February 17

David Burns, Martin Gabel: scenes from Art Buchwald's new comedy, Sheep on the Runway, with Roger Stevens, co-producer. Captain 'Bil' Warwick: the Master of the Queen Elizabeth 2 tells us about the joys and frustrations of operating the world's finest floating hotel.

February 24

Sam Levenson: raconteur, former schoolteacher, and author of Sex and the Single Child (illustrated by Dutch Treater Whitney Darrow, Jr.), steps inside of it and takes "A Humorous Look At Society" today.

March 3

Bergen Evans: educator, author, and former informative and witty moderator of TV programs The Last Word and Down You Go, addresses the members on "Gift of Gab."

March 10

Deborah Maher and Charles Hinsley: a fine pair of singers sponsored by Meyer and Emery Davis at the New York Hilton. Ralph de Toledano: Dutch Treater, veteran political analyst, columnist and author of recent biography "One Man Alone: Richard Nixon."

March 17

Sleepy Hall: one-time big band leader who plays the hottest banjo in Montana. Ulick O'Connor: humorist and impressionist, the author of a biography of Brendan Behan, brings a little piece of Ireland into our midst.

When, Where and Who

Occasionally, from some dusty cubbyhole or banded steamer trunk, emerges photographic evidence that the DTC really did exist in the past, and its members did meet to lunch and drink together and talk about their favorite subject—women.

But identification of the photographs—of where, when and who is often not that easy.

To the member who can identify the setting, the time and the Club members in the photograph on the opposite page, our President will award a coveted Dutch Treat Club medallion. Send the facts to our Secretary, whose address appears regularly at the bottom of our weekly postcards.

The Editors are indebted to Jerome Beatty, Jr. for the photograph. His father, a longtime Club member, is seated at the right.

Treasurer's Report

It was once true that our Treasurer, his numerous assistants and other, lesser, financial wizards kept the shop in order, while the rest of us were free to gambol at Palm Beach, Anchorage, Paris and London.

Today the Club has fourteen Treasurers, all of whom spend their days on sunny, pink beaches, or up some lagoon or other. To us peons in N.Y.C. and its environs, they send back only one message as their Annual Report:

"If y'all don't attend the luncheons, y'all drive us Treasurers back up North."

Despite the Treasurers, the Club is solvent, as reflected in our sophisticated accounting system—the Tuesday-to-Tuesday, sign-in-and-pay Eleanor, Dutch Treat Club plan. (Detailed figures are available on request.)

Sonnet to the Seventies

Gently draw the vintage cork
Of the seventies in New York
In the nectar hope to find Something good for humankind.

Beware the jinny in the jar
Lurking like a prowling car—
Beware the brash prognosticators
Market tips from suave headwaiters.

Jinny pleads "Let me relax
Inflation threats—the income tax
Other troubles worse by far
God keep me safe inside my jar."

Gently draw the vintage cork
Of the seventies in New York.
